HAD "HOODOOED" HER.

And She Sing Him With the Grape Vine Sing.

Hattie Piersall is one of the model cooks and neat housekeepers of our town.

William Bell is a worty colored citizen, well advanced in years, and possessed of remarkable conversational powers.

Hattie claims that William had talked about her, and also that he had "noo doode" her.

It was necessary to "break the spell," so she consulted the Oracle, who informed her that in this particular case she would be obliged to caress William with a chunk of grapevine with a pair of tacks driven through it.

The grapevine and tacks being provided, William and the opportunity were alone essential to the completion of the job.

The parties met on West Second street Sunday afternoon and Hattie at once proceeded to "break the spell" by breaking the grapevine over the body of William.

After numerous well-directed blows, scratches on his arms, William succeeded in wresting the grapevine from his assailant, when he proceeded to choke her in the most approved fashion.

Bystanders now interfered, and the physical contest ended.

Yesterday Hattie appeared before Judge Wadsworth, pleaded guilty to a breach of the peace, and with the costs the amount charged against her was a little over $1.

William evidently knew that he ever said a word of evil against Hattie.

And Hattie is equally positive that he did.

However, William has become a Free-trader—he wants the "tacks" removed from grapevines.

Kentucky's Midway Pleasure, as the Atlanta Constitution calls it, closed last Saturday. The Ferris wheel in the heads of the politicians will revolve for several weeks.

Bishop Keane, Dean of the Catholic University of America, has returned from Rome. He says it is the intention of the Pope, as will be shown in a coming encyclical letter, to materially enlarge the jurisdiction and authority of the apostolic delegate in the United States, for which Mr. Satoli presides. Bishop Keane also announces that the position of Archbishop Ireland on the parochial school question has been thoroughly upheld at Rome.

Thus has been his life a good example for the youth of the present day.

CHADDOCK'S SPEECH.

Authentic Report of His Oration at the Fleming Barbecue.

Paris Kentucky-Otter.

"Our remarks at the barbecue were that we took great pleasure in coming down where Democrats were dwelling together in unity, after we had gone through a desperate contest in which Democrats had called each such scoundrels so that some had to be sworn to support them."

"You," we said, "made the nomination unanimously, and, of course, ought to see that Judge Thomas and Senator Pugh do not again buy an election. While electing R. D. Hart to Congress they ought not to forget their candidates for county offices."

"In addition to the public dinner there were many delightful speakers. Mrs. Rolla Hart, wife of the next Congressman, and the Misses Darnall feasted the speakers."

Harvey C. Little and Miss Anna K. Hale, both of this county, married yester-

PULPIT PATRIOTISM.

ELDER E. L. POWELL OF LOUISVILLE SPEAKS PLAINLY.

He Relishes in the Disappearance of Partisanism, and Opposes the Union of Church and State.

Elder E. L. Powell, formerly of this city, preached an eloquent sermon at the First Christian Church in Louisville during the evening on "Patriotism," choosing as his text Psalm cxlvii, 6: "In it I forgot my country. If I do not remember my mouth."

"In this speech," said the Minister, "is expressed the intense passion of a patriot for his native land. Jerusalem held in her precincts nothing more sacred than the lovely huts of her people. To the Jew there was no city like unto Mt. Zion, the joy of the earth, the fairest flower of them all. To read the history of Jerusalem is to peruse one long story of patriotism. Patriotism is now fighting for liberty and battling for the uppermost. So long as patriotic men are at the head of the press will the march keep up."

First of all, he said, was the "Patriot," edited by Edward Everett Hale, which is a remarkable story. It is the history of a prisoner who, when he was brought before Court, for trial, vehemently exclaimed, "May I never see or hear of the United States again!"

The Judge, with the consent of the President, had the man sent away to an island in mid-ocean. Here he lived in misery—a man without a flag, a man without a country. When he finally died there was found marked in his Bible the passage, "He longed for a country, even though he saw none upon."

In another place they would buy small bills from one party in a clay pot, and then send over big bills from other persons and refer the latter to the former as to their responsibility. What could the former do but answer inquirers saying that Mr. Hall or Mr. Cooper had always paid them promptly?

In this way the rascals manipulated matters until their swindles have reached more than $100,000.

They tried the game on a number of Maysville merchants at various times, but their success here was limited.

At one time they ordered a hundred barrels from the Frank Owen Hardware Co., seven thousand dollars worth, from the Limestone Cigar Factory, four from the mills, whisky from the distilleries, and great stacks of other goods that were never shipped, because our merchants were generally "onto" the scheme.

More than a year ago the Postmaster in this city set the ball a-rolling by forwarding to the proper authorities some of the letters received here, and it has culminated in the capture of a part of the worst gang that has ever been organized for a campaign of theft.

Among the hundreds of victims here are those, which serve to show the extent and variety of their operations.

The Vandenberg Tife Company, Cincinnati, on church street, valued at $157,36, which has been placed on top of Dawson's "Blind Tiger" at Cincinnati, $100 worth of groceries.

The Lawrenceburg Brewing Company, valued at $10,000, and the Oddfellows Lodge of the Bauer Cooperage Company of the same place, which was swindled out of twenty-five cwt. weight.

Gustav Kiel of New Albany 3,000 cigars, $75.

The Hamilton Organ Company of Pittsburg, two organs, worth $300.

J. H. Rogers & Co. of Mayville, two barrels of whisky, $130.

W. H. Hooper & Co. of New York, thirty cases of Canadian Club whisky, $10 a case.

W. H. Hooper & Co. of Cincinnati, twenty-five cases of beer.

Lawrenceburg Roller Mill Company, twenty-five barrels of flour, $75.

The Alpine Sewing Machine Company of Cincinnati, three safes.

Porter and Roofing Company of Cincinnati, merchandise $1,935.

The American Sewing Machine Company of Cincinnati, machines $100.

The Cincinnati Cork Company, corks $10.

The Union Manufacturing Company of Toledo, three bicycles, $30.

The Standard Oil Company of Corlton, N. Y., three spring wagons.

Besides these there are hundreds of others, who shipped in the aggregate thousands of dollars worth of property.

Wayne Damon, who keeps a saloon and liquor store at Catlettsburg, was one of the men from whom the "gang" borrowed whisky, for which they always paid. His connection with the swindlers does not appear to go beyond the fact that, when written to, he informed several parties that he had frequently traded with them and that Hall had always paid.

Damon is under bond, while Hall and Cooper are under lock and key, concealing the distance and the days that intervene between Corlton and Sing Sing.

Oca temperance friends will be delighted to learn, no doubt, that the new Democratic Tariff reduces the duty on brandy to $1.80 per gallon. Under the McKinley Law it was $2.50.

It is to be hoped that The Bulletin's readers will at once proceed to lay in some of those $4 suits of clothes which can be bought now for $30 according to the Free-trade Editor's advertisement.

On the basis of last year's importations, the Democratic Tariff reduces the duties on laces and embroideries $1.537,800. This will be good news to the laboring men who work on our city streets for $1.25 a day, whose wives and daughters wear $40-a-yard laces. Besides, it will help them to pay the extra price which the new Tariff puts on their sugar.

The eminent philosopher of the Bulletin is continually comparing prices and things of this year with prices and things of last year. Sonny, last year was the first year of the Democratic panie. Why don't you compare prices and things of this year with prices and things of the year before last year? That was the last year of Republican prosperity.

The Democracy of Pennsylvania is in a state of ferment because WILLIAM M. SINGERLY of the Philadelphia Record, the candidate for Governor, has declared that the state fife is a fizzle, and that the Philadelphia Democrats have sold out the party. Keep your eye on Pennsylvania, gentlemen; this is a had year for Democrats in that state—and in every other state.

REVIEWING trade for the past week E. G. DUN & CO. say plenty of material for encouragement and also for discouragement can be found by those who seek that and nothing else. But business men who want to see the situation exactly as it is, find accounts so conflicting that it is difficult to strike a balance. In the aggregate business is about a tenth larger than last year, but still falls about 20 per cent below a full volume for the season.

A few days ago The Bulletin, which is energetic and enterprising only when it comes to finding mere news, printed the following, with gorgeous headline, in its editorial column:

DOWN COME THE PRICES.

Suite That Cost $16 Under the McKinley Tariff Are Now Offered at $35.

The following is taken from a circular issued by one of the large importing and tailoring firms of Cincinnati and speaks for itself:

Dear Sirs:—Now that the Tariff Bill is settled, and business in general has assumed a more prosperous condition, the good effects of which we fully feel, we desire to call your attention to the fact, in order to convince your friends that you are enjoying this prosperity one must not neglect personal appearance. It is in the course of our business that in the anticipation of a prosperous season our imports have been larger than usual, and our exports have been correspondingly larger, with beautiful and pleasing effects. *

We have purchased a large assortment of Englishings of one of the best and most famous manufacturers, and the value we have paid for $45. We will quote this line for this season at the uniform price of $35 to our patrons.

This is a saving of $10, nearly 25 per cent, on a suit, under the Democratic Tariff.

The Bulletin would have its readers believe that the millennium has come—a belief that is completely dispelled by the following letter from the largest Importing house in its line in the United States, E. H. VAN INGEN & CO., New York:

“Messrs. Heckinger & Co., Mayville—Dear Sirs:—The new Tariff Bill reads as follows: ‘The reduction of the rates of duty herein provided for manufacturers of wool shall take effect January 1st, 1895.’ Consequently the prices of woolen goods will not be affected during this present autumn season.

‘Under the old law, which will remain in force until next January, the duty is 30 per cent ad valorem and 44 cents per pound weight.

‘Upon the new law the duty will be 30 per cent ad valorem. The reduction of duty, therefore, is 44 cents per pound weight.

‘The average weight of double-width spring woolens for men's wear is sixteen ounces, and the reduced cost will be 44 cents. The average weight of double-width fall woolens for men's wear is twenty-four ounce, and the reduced cost will be 65 cents.

‘In a general way, therefore, after January 1st, next, our double-width foreign spring goods of about sixteen ounces weight will be sold at 44 cents per yard less than now, and double-width foreign fall goods of about twenty-four ounces weight at 75 cents per yard less. Lighter weight goods will have less reduction and heavier weights will have more.

‘American goods, having been already sold what remains in the last spring, and the present fall will will therefore not be subject to any reduction as the foreign goods.

‘Foreign wool will be admitted free at once, but it will take several months to produce goods from such wool, and therefore there can be no reduction in foreign or domestic goods during the present season. Yours truly,

E. H. VAN INGEN & CO.”

POLITICAL mathematicians put Lewis county down for 750 majority for Judge Faxon.

Buy American Goods Only!

If every patriotic American will purchase American goods only for his consumption he will lessen the disastrous effects of the Free-trade German Tariff Bill. THE LEDGER invites all to join in such a movement, and to sign the following pledge:

I hereby pledge myself to buy American goods only, whether of the farm, mine or factory, and to use my influence to have others do the same.

Storm of Disapproval Over the Name of the Post Office.

The Citizens of the Historic Village Wanted the Name “Surrender.”

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25.—The storm of disapproval occasioned by the name of the proposed post office in Appomattox has passed the post office officials on the offensive. When the postmaster general approved of the change of name he did not think anything was wrong in the name “Appomattox.” In the anticipation of a prosperous season our importations have been larger than usual, and our exports correspondingly larger, with beautiful and pleasing effects. *

ESCAPE.

Two Thousand Russian Exiles Leave Siberia.

The Convicts Guarded the Soldiers Who Were Guarding Them, and Securing All the Arms They Could Find, They Fleed—Quirinal and Vatikan.

LONDON, Sept. 25.—The representatives in Rome of the various press agencies say that the doubts which were cast first regarding the honesty of Premier Crisp's speech at Naples still continue.

The pope thought that he was safe, with the intention of drawing from the Vatican expressions of the views entertained regarding the question of a reconciliation, and therefore issued orders to all the vicars to maintain the strictest reserve. The Catholic press has been advised to leave the matter untouched.

A person closely connected with the papal household says Signor Crisp, finding that a tendency toward a re-appraisal of the relations between France and Italy, and the position of the isolates of Italy, and therefore sought a "reconciliation with the Vatican." He has been given to understand that the first necessary step would be restitution of Rome to the popes, and that the second would be the length of stating that it will have no dealings with the quirinal until the day when this court vacates.

When Signor Crisp found that his plan had been overthrown he receded from the position he had taken and resumed his old attitude of hostility toward the Vatican. The church officials are contending that this constitutes a virtual victory for the pope. Cardinal Rambaudi, papal secretary of state, has expressed the opinion that the Crisp intrigue has been defeated.

The Attempt to Collect Railroad Taxes in Lindell and Caseyville Disturbances Cause Serious Trouble.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Sept. 25.—There seems now to be every probability that there will be serious trouble in Lindell and Caseyville, proclaims when Capt. Blackwell and his forces attempt to collect the railroad tax from the people. It is believed that the taxpayers will not get that money, while on the other hand the people say they are law-abiding citizens, have thrice offered to pay a reasonable sum on the bonds, but when the tax collector comes he amounts to one-fourth of all the real and personal property in the district, and the promoters of the mythical railroad have taken upon judgment them that they will resist the collection of the tax to the end.

In 1871 Gen. Alex. Winslow, of New York, came down into the Sturgis district and proposed to build a railroad from Madisonville to Caseyville. A Mr. J. C. Johnson, a Mississippian, a president Lindell presented a petition to the project, and Caseyville $100,000. Gen. James Thompson and Col. N. Nichols, Casey were to have represented themselves as the contractors. A bill was introduced in the legislature, but it is claimed that the men of the town were instrumental in preventing her to fully that amount. Her claim is that the provisional government could never have been established if she had not done so.

Whatever Mr. Wideman's mission is, his task is that of a secret agent, to keep a profound secret until almost the moment of sailing, when he suddenly appears. Within a few days he will go to Washington, where he does not deny he has business of importance to transact.

His fellow passengers from the land declare that Mr. Wideman is a man of great tact, and that his instructions to go about this matter very quietly and gain as little newspaper notoriety as possible.

INFERIOR RIVETS

Hold to Have Been Placed in Most All of the United States Vessels.

VALLEJO, Cal., Sept. 25.—The U. S. gun boat Bennington has been docked at the Mare Island navy yard. Her hull has been scraped of all submarine growth and her condition passed upon by a naval board of survey. Her hull has been found to be badly in need of repairs, especially her keel, the rivets being loose and the hull being somewhat corroded and unsound. There are many of these bad rivets, and their presence has been a source of uneasiness to the officers of the Bennington for many months past. The rivets are fatigued and corroded, moisture appeared in the double bottoms which the officers could not account for. When the gunboat was docked and her hull scraped of the accumulation of barnacles, it was found that the rivets present on the interior along the keel and around the rivets. When the rivets were tried they were found in a state of decay, and crumbled and fell apart like the hammer of a nail.

The cause of this is due to the shipper said: "This is used by all contractors an inferior grade of rivet metal in all government work. When a ship is in strong sea water, the metal rusts and falls off in the bottom of a ship, causing a general collapse, which cuts away the rivets, leaving the water to penetrate into the double bottoms. The shoulder of the rivets eaten away and the rivets is no use."

The rivets will need time to complete their work, and in the meantime the painters will go over her hull.

They weren't in it at all. The Mt. Carmel baseball team played the Forman Springs team at St. Louis on the 25th of August. This is the first game our boys have played and it turned out a success for one. The score was 60 to 4 in favor of our boys.
